

Wayne's Words: 2006 Word of the Year Nominations for the American Dialect Society vote to be held January 5, 2007

Submitted by:
Wayne Glowka
Department of English, Speech, and Journalism Georgia College & State University Milledgeville, GA 31061 wayne.glowka@gcsu.edu 478-414-8578

Axis Envy North Korea's envy of attention given to Iran blue-dog Democrat Conservative Democrat

Brokeback Gay; bad

Cambodian accessories Angelina Jolie's adopted Cambodian children car-parazzi People who drop everything to photograph a car chesticles Man boobs consensus science Scientific theory determined by vote

CrackBerry addict Person unable to put down his or her BlackBerry cut and jog Cut and run at a slower pace ecosexual Person choosing dates according to a partner's green habits entrepreneegro African-American business person foleyed Have embarrassing IM conversation made public

Fed-Ex K-Fed's new nickname grill Shiny removable mouthpiece worn over the teeth gauging Stretching the earlobes with a series of larger objects lyric malfunction Obscenities scrubbed from the Rolling Stones' Super Bowl performance

m-, man-, men- compounds (moobs, manboobs, murse, man purse, mancation, man crush, manmaries, menaissance, etc.)

Mel Gibson 1: Ostracize 2: Run amok new castrati Feminized males nicotini Tobacco-flavored cocktail (for smokeless bars) rainbow sheep Politically correct black sheep sock puppet False identity on the Internet speaker-in-waiting Speaker of the House to be spew Gibberish in spam intended to fool a spam filter tramp stamp Tattoo at the base of a woman's spine

White House Reporter Syndrome Depression among White House press corps when other folks get the news first